Welcome to our Faithful Parishioners and
All Those who may be 'Just Visiting'

Jesus washed the feet of his apostles at the Last Supper as a sign of loving service, instructing them "as I have done this to you so must you do for one another." We as a family of faith strive to live this commandment of love in doing all that we can to welcome you as we invite you to be an active member of this community.

Welcome new parishioners! If you are new to our parish, I invite you to introduce yourself to me or any of the other priests after Sunday Mass. Even though we are a large parish, we make every effort to come to know you and your family personally so that we may be better able to serve you. If you would like to register, please see the Welcome section on the homepage of our website (www.srolchurch.org) for details.

From Thomas Griffin, St. Rose of Lima Coordinator of Evangelization

Summer is a time for relaxation. Most people have more time away from work and more time with their families to travel or simply relax. Since most children are off from school over the summer, many families take this time to go on vacation and plan warm weather events.

While all this is fun, it also serves a deeper purpose. Intentionally investing time and energy into one's family relationships is critical for the health of the world. Many Christians recognize that the family is the heart of culture. On a visit to Australia in 1986, Pope John Paul II said,

“As the family goes, so goes the nation and so goes the whole world in which we live.”

If you want to make your family the priority this summer, there are three simple ways to do so.

First, families should learn to “waste time” with one another. Ordinary routine moments of family life are opportunities to be truly present to one's spouse and children. This practice of presence teaches how to love more deeply. These moments cultivate intimacy and love, allowing family relationships to flourish. If more families recognized the value of these moments, the tide of the culture could begin to shift, encouraging parents and children towards virtue.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church explains this with characteristic clarity: “The family is the original cell of social life. It is the natural society in which husband and wife are called to give themselves in love and in the gift of life. Authority, stability, and a life of relationships within the family constitute the foundations for freedom, security, and fraternity within society. The family is the community in which, from childhood, one can learn moral values, begin to honor God, and make good use of freedom. Family life is an initiation into life in society.”

A family that does not spend intentional time together raises children who will be unprepared for social life in the world. It will also make it harder for them to form their own healthy families as adults. When parents learn to be more present to their children, kids intuitively understand that nothing is more important than giving and receiving love.

Second, families can become closer by eating meals together. Studies reveal that children who regularly eat with their families are better able to deal with stress than those who do so only rarely. One systematic review of previous studies showed that “Greater family meal frequency protects children/adolescents against a poorer diet, obesity, risk behaviors, poorer mental health and wellbeing, and poorer academic outcomes.”

For those who already eat together as a family though, one of the biggest temptations is to allow technology—particularly smartphones—to encroach on this crucial time. Multiple studies have found that the mere presence of a smartphone nearby harms social interactions. When a smartphone is on the table or even in someone's pocket, people display less empathy and are less likely to bring up serious topics.

Summer is the perfect time to break phone habits at the dinner table. Given the weather, families can put in the extra work to eat outside, making clear that everyone must leave their devices in the house. This also makes it easier to implement a firm rule that everyone keeps phones away from the dinner table. This practice can rekindle relationships and encourage intimate conversations between family members.

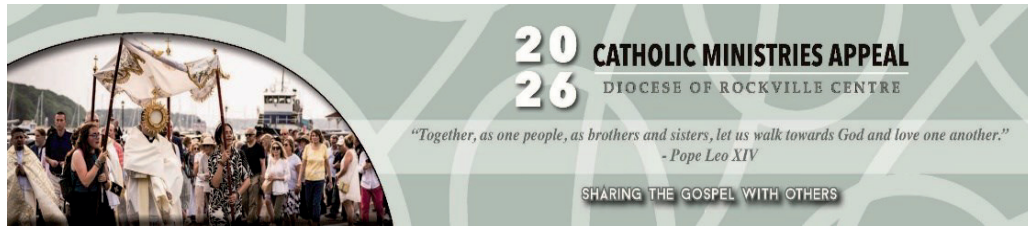

Finally, family members can grow closer this summer by explicitly expressing gratitude for each other—and by being more honest about their own flaws. Being thankful for simple ways that family members show love to each other is a great way to spark meaningful conversations between spouses and children.

When Pope Francis visited America in 2015 for the Eighth World Meeting of Families in Philadelphia, he said, “In the family, we first learn how to show love and respect for life ... In the family, we learn to ask without demanding, to say ‘thank you’ as an expression of genuine gratitude ... and to ask forgiveness when we have caused harm.”

Looking a child or spouse in the eyes to say thank you or sorry is a moment of vulnerability that builds intimacy. These conversations are profoundly formative for children and critical to a fulfilling marriage. Gratitude and honesty are the soil that allows seeds of intimacy to grow.

So, this summer, invest in spending time with your family. Because when we examine our lives and place our careers, hobbies, and desires on the table, we see that really nothing is more important than the relationships of our immediate family. Let's use the next few months to love our family intentionally; we might just begin to usher in a better world.

Dear Friends:

As we begin to enjoy all that summer on Long Island offers us, I write to ask you to prayerfully consider making a gift to this year's Catholic Ministries Appeal so that we can bring that joy to those who come to us for help and support in these uncertain times.

While more than 20,000 of our neighbors from across the Diocese have generously responded with their gifts and prayers, there are still so many ministries that need our support.

Pope Leo XIV urged us to reflect on how we invest the "treasure" that is our life, challenging Catholics to share not only material possessions but also their skills, time, and compassion for the good of others.

Here on Long Island, the Catholic Ministries Appeal is one of the best local vehicles we can use to reach out and show mercy, compassion, and charity to others. Not only does your gift help our very own Parish Outreach Programs feed and serve the poor, but it also sustains programs and services offered by Catholic Charities across the Diocese. Such active efforts ensure that the recipients are comforted with the knowledge that God loves them and is with them even during challenging times in their lives.

Even more, the Catholic Ministries Appeal supports the services that provide religious education for our children, form our future priests and deacons, make available youth and campus ministry programs, and so many other important works that help us to share the Gospel message in our Diocese and beyond.

In gratitude for your prayerful consideration of a gift to the 2026 Catholic Ministries Appeal, be assured of my conviction that together we can bring Christ's message of holiness to individuals, families, and the wider community.

Thank you for embracing the mission of the Church. I will keep you and your family in my Masses and prayers.

If you have already given a gift to the 2026 Catholic Ministries Appeal, thank you for your gift!

Sincerely in Christ,

Most Reverend John O. Barres
